RELEVANT PROJECTS

Python Report Generator using Pandas and NumPy:
- This script can generate a report containing selected data from any "flat" file, provided that
- (A) The file can be read using Panda's read_csv function
- (B) The file contains data that can be used to create a "clean" DataFrame object.

Time Card Software Solution:
- Personalized software solution to track employee hours in decimal time and calculate their pay based on hours and wage. Designed, tested, developed, and deployed using JS, HTML5, CSS, and Netlify providing a user-friendly solution for time-tracking.

AWS Skill Builder: Introduction to Containers:
- This comprehensive course provided me with a strong foundation in containerization technology and its practical applications, enhancing my ability to collaborate effectively within cross-functional development teams and contribute to the entire software development lifecycle.
